

The ISPIIM PhD Community is a platform for young career researchers and PhD students to meet senior researchers and practitioners working within innovation management. Through the community, junior researchers gain support in dealing with the challenges of completing a PhD as well as in getting started with a post-PhD career.

Junior researchers (from thinking about doing a PhD to just about finishing their PhD), meet the afternoon before ISPIIM events, to get a head-start on networking before the main event begins. Stay up to date with what is happening, by signing up to the ISPIIM PhD Community groups on Facebook and LinkedIn.

The June 2017 Lab will be at fabulous TUtheSky on the 11th floor of the newly renovated Getreidemarkt campus of TU Wien. Let's hope for a beautiful summer day so we can appreciate the must-see views from the terrace!

The Lab is free to attend for delegates attending the XXVIII ISPIIM Innovation Conference. For other interested participants, there is a cost of 50 EUR.
